WORK SUMMARY

Senior Field Investigator

Simone Fleming has 25 years of experience in investigations and claims management. Simone managed a successful private investigations company in the northwest where she developed and cultivated strong relationships with her insurance clients and staff, both office and investigative. She obtained her workers' compensation claims examiner certification to broaden her understanding of her clients' needs, then moved into the investigations field as a field and surveillance investigator.

Simone has worked as a field investigator for SAIF Corporation, a Senior Field Investigator for Liberty Northwest Insurance (Liberty Mutual Insurance), and an investigator for a national investigations company.

While initially her insurance experience focused on workers' compensation, she has worked extensively in personal injury, property, automobile claims, Third-Party Liability and recovery claims as well.

Pursuing excellence in all aspects of her career, Simone strives to clearly understand the needs of the client. As a manager, understanding the specific strengths of the investigator allows for the best possible pairing of investigation to investigator, ensuring a quality outcome in any and all investigations.

Professional relationships are just that, relationships, and her commitment to developing successful relationships while delivering an excellent product has been and continues to be her number one professional priority.
